

Standard Oil Co. Secures Location

J. D. Wren sold today to the Standard Oil Company his property located on the corner of East Main and Wilson streets in this city. Mr. Wren purchased this location about two years ago for the purpose of erecting a two-story brick garage, fronting on Main street and running back on Wilson street 165 feet. Had he carried out his plans this would possibly have been the largest and best equipped and most modern garage in Central Kentucky.

Having been offered what he considered a fair price for this location and knowing that the garage business to be already overdone to a certain extent in this city, he has decided to continue in business in his present location and not build at present.

The price paid for this property is private, but is said to be over $10,000, and the Standard Oil Company is to be congratulated on securing this location for their filling station, as it is one of the best in our city. A permit to build was granted by the city council last night.

"Billy" Senff Asleep in Jesus

William Nesbitt Senff, approaching his seventh year, son of Judge E. W. Senff and wife, after contending with the white plague for three years past, on Wednesday morning yielded in the struggle for life and entered on rest. Funeral services were conducted at the grave in Macphelah cemetery this morning by Rev. J. W. Crates, and the body of the bright little boy, who knew no sin, was consigned to the earth to await that day when he shall arise to meet Him who said, "Permit the little ones to come unto me."

The flower is a bud, then a bloom and soon is of the past. So it was with little Billy, born, is of a few days, endured much of pain and then, like the candle that flickered a little, went out. Gather up the toys, put away the little shoes and stockings and that vacant chair where Billy sat, wipe away the falling tears and look up through the rifted clouds to where the sun shineth and behold bone of your bone, flesh of your flesh, little Billy, safe in the arms of Jesus. God giveth and He taketh; blessed be His name. He will be there waiting for you. Grace sufficient to bear this burden comes to those who ask it of Him. Won't you remember, as David of old, that the child cannot return to you, but you can go to him. Here, with the poet, it is a dream, yonder it is real. Ponder and live in this poetic trance: Thy memory, as a spell

Of love, comes o'er my mind;
As dew upon the purple dell—
As perfume on the wind;
As music on the sea—
As sunshine 'on the river;
So hath it always been to me,
So shall it be forever.

I hear thy voice in dreams
Upon me softly call,
Like echoes of the mountain stream,
In spouting water fall;
I see thy form as when
Thou wert a living thing,
And blossoms in the eyes of men,
Like any flower of spring.

Thy soul to Heaven hath fled,
From earthly thralldom free;
Yet 'tis not as the dead
That thou appearest to me.
In slumber I behold
Thy form, as when on earth,
Thy locks of waving gold,
Thy sapphire eye of mirth.

I hear, in solitude,
The prattle kind and free,
Thou uttered in joyful mood
While seated on my knee.
So strong each vision seem
My spirit that doth fill,
I think not they are dreams,
But that thou liveth still.

FREE TICKETS To See "The Affairs of Anatol" Tabb Theatre Next Monday and Tuesday.

All you have to do is to find your name, which may be hidden in any one of the advertisements in this paper, clip the ad and bring it to The Advocate office and receive a ticket absolutely free.

"The Affairs of Anatol" has twelve big stars, including Wallace Reid, Gloria Swanson, Bebe Daniels and many other favorites.

It will be at the Tabb next Monday and Tuesday.

Best Picture Ever, Lasky Says of Anatol

"Undoubtedly the best thing we have ever done," said Jesse Lasky, vice president in charge of production of Paramount pictures, on his return to New York from Hollywood studios, where he saw the first print of "The Affairs of Anatol," the 12-star Cecil B. DeMille production by Jeanie MacPherson.

"Mr. DeMille has surpassed all his previous efforts. For lavishness of costuming as well as powerful drama 'The Affairs of Anatol' will live up to the cast which has been given it, and the cast, with its twelve individual stars, is the greatest ever assembled in one picture.

"There were some predictions," continued Mr. Lasky, "when we first planned to combine our stars into one stock company, that the players who had been used to individual stardom would not work together harmoniously. Both Mr. DeMille and I discounted these predictions, because we believed the 12 artists would appreciate the benefits accruing to them from participation in such an epoch-making picture.

"It was no surprise to me, then, when I found the picture had been completed with no petty jealousies, no display of temperament and no hard feelings. The players all subordinated themselves into enacting the story Jeanie Macpherson wrote from the Schnitzler drama.

"It was no easy task for the photographer, Alvin Wykoff and Karl Struss, to get the best effects from their cameras with a picture which includes in its cast such famous artists as Wallace Reid, Gloria Swanson, Elliott Dexter, Bebe Daniels, Monte Blue, Wanda Hawley, Theodore Roberts, Agnes Ayres, Theodore Kosloff, Polly Moran, Raymond Hatton, Julia Faye and others.

"From the standpoint of the cameramen, every one of these luminaries offered an individual problem. The case can best be explained by stating that Wallace Reid has certain lighting arrangements under which he appears to best advantage. Gloria Swanson requires an entirely different gradation of lights. Wanda Hawley, a blond of the most pronounced type, requires still another arrangement and Bebe Daniels who is as markedly a brunette as Wanda Hawley is a blond, again "takes" best under different condition. To the photographers was given the seemingly impossible task of synchronizing the lighting effects so that all appeared on an equal photographic footing that would still show up each individual to the greatest advantage.

"The difficulty was increased by the fact that each important character had his or her favorite style of makeup. One of the leading characters has a decided preference for yellow grease paint. Another favors pink. Still another has decided that

Tobacco Money May Soon Be Available

Warehouse facilities may be acquired and arrangements made by the committee of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Marketing Association so that growers may deliver part of their crop and receive a payment thereon before the holidays, it was said by Chairman Ralph Barker, of the warehouse committee. He pointed out the fact that 95 per cent of the warehousemen who are backing the movement also are growers.

ASSESSMENT COMPLETED

Tax Commissioner Harry F. Howell has completed the assessment of property for 1921. His recapitulation, which has been mailed to the state tax commissioner, and which is 30 days earlier than the law requires, amounts to $14,054,975, as compared to $15,151,890 last year, making a reduction of 7 1/2 per cent. Mr. Howell states that he expects to make every effort possible to persuade the state tax commissioner to approve his assessment without a raise. He further states that if the fiscal court could reduce the county rate and also the school rate a like amount, then the state reduce in proportion, our taxes would be about 30 per cent less next year. Each branch of taxation would contribute its proportional part of the decrease and thereby relieve the burden. Of course, in order to do this, the obligations must be reduced first, but Mr. Howell declares this would be a simple matter.

she shines best under the are lights in a green pant. The resulting complexity of having several characters in different shades of makeup practically multiplied the cameramen's difficulties.

"The work was in, large measure, facilitated by the spirit of co-operation which permeated the cast. Every member of 'The Affairs of Anatol' was an experienced screen actor or actress and had learned the value of sacrifice. The result was that in some cases it was necessary to alter the makeup from the individual's favorite style in order to insure the success of the photography, the change was made willingly for the success of the production."

Note—"The Affairs of Anatol" will be shown at the Tabb Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, matinee daily.

THE FRIENDLY SEASONS

We're friends with all the seasons,
no matter how they go—
We're thankful for the summer, and
we just rejoice in snow,
And neyermore this world shall be a
ness of woe,
While dreamin' of its harvests in the mornin'.
We're thankful in the darkness for the dreams that whisper Light!
For the thought that mornin's comin'
with a wreath of roses bright;
For the harbor that's off yonder,
with the rest of it in sight—
Where the ships will ride at anchor in the mornin'.

Even when a girl has a red nose, she gets some consolation out of the knowledge that her skin is white

THE DEPRIVITY OF LAZY INDIFFERENCE

We know of a public school ma'am who teaches French who has just given one of her classes an examination test, has herself examined the papers—forty of 'em—and marked each individual paper, all in the space of a 40-minute hour. In other words, a test that was just about worthless because the 40 pupils only had 20 of the 40 minutes in which to show what they had actually learned in the preceding month. There was no need of this senseless speed because the teacher is expected to go over the examination papers at the conclusion of the five-hour recitation period.

The explanation, of course, is that the young woman was merely lazy—didn't want to work after the regular school period—and carelessly indifferent to her high duty.

It is simply amazing how this twin-headed microbe of indifference and laziness has spread over America in the last decade. It has invaded all classes—not anybody, but the great masses of people. Millions have not the slightest pride in the thing they are doing in life. All they care is to drag grudgingly and stupidly through a routine of alleged brain or hand labor for a few hours a day and draw as much pay for it at the end of the week as they can make the higher-up guys hand over.

This vice has never bitten very deeply into the people of the country districts, but it is epidemic and rampant in all our cities.

The farmer has suffered deflation to the hilt. The mass of the city people has resisted it successfully so far, at the same time mending their ways not a bit. We wish hard times for nobody, but it looks very much as if nothing less than real poverty will cure the city masses of the depravity represented by that French teacher.

Let's thoroughly understand that indifference is mediocrity and mediocrity is bankruptcy. God will that the nation escape that!

FORMAL OPENING OF WINCHESTER FIRM

The firm of Grubbs, Scobee and Bartlett, hardware dealers and undertakers, held their formal opening yesterday at their new place of business in the McElowney building in Winchester. The complete line of hardware carried by this enterprising firm is displayed on the first floor, while on the second floor, which is given over to the undertaking department, a number of handsome caskets and shrouds were shown.

The visitors were shown through the building and were served a delightful lunch, consisting of ham sandwiches, coffee, wafers and pickles. The opening was widely attended by people from Winchester and surrounding towns. Mr. Grubbs, the senior member of the firm, is a former Mt. Sterling citizen and has a great many friends here who will read with great interest of the opening of the new establishment.

GIVING THANKS

All thoughtful parents, I am sure, wish their children to have "wide interests and simple pleasures." Indeed the two go together, for the farther into the activities of others the child's sympathy carries him, the more wholesome pleasures he is sure to discover for himself. To broaden the outlook, Froebel has given mothers the Grasamowing Play. Its gay, old-fashioned little song, beginning

"Peter, Peter, quickly go
To the fields the grass to mow," shows the baby how many workers contribute to his well being. It can not fail to interest a child when he knows the cow must be fed to furnish the milk he so much likes, the butter churned and his' rolls baked from the soft white flour the miller has ground. This train of thought naturally leads him on to a contemplation of the great Source of all supply, the Giver of all good. And as the child sings these quaint little verses happily, with their appreciative climax, he is learning to express loving gratitude:

"Thanks to all are gladly said,
Baken, thank you for the bread;
Thanks dear mother shall not miss
Given with a loving kiss."

Furthermore, if a child grows up realizing how his life is interwoven with those about him he will be safeguarded against selfishness and if he is taught to think about work and play in their relationship to each other, over emphasizing either will be prevented. Roosevelt in writing to one of his sons, commended him for having excelled in college athletics, but reminded him that it was not praiseworthy to exert himself to the limit of his strength for a trivial end. He was to keep his powers at their highest, then give himself utterly when a worth while occasion arose. Even young children can be taught to keep an idea of balance, and will be richer and happier for the knowledge.

The broader the education of the parents, the more they will have to pass on to their children. Once open your child's eyes to the ways by which he is provided with food, clothing, transportation, heat, light and other comforts, and if he has a normal, eager mind he will as he grows older find means of supplementing what you have taught him. When you have given him the inestimable advantage of a fair beginning, he will see and understand the evidences of cause and effect in his life. For instance, late bedtime is pleasant in the evening, but detrimental to school work; eating vegetables may be a trial, but I have seen four-year-olds devour them with increasing willingness in order to have "rosy cheeks and straight, strong legs."

But perhaps the greatest advantage we give our children in showing them the relationship of incidents and circumstances in their lives is the habit of appreciation. Then naturally follows gratitude to the Heavenly Father. Why should every good thing be taken for granted? Saying "Thank you" is more than an amenity. They will be better members of society for having learned to express gratitude, with the great knowledge of a reason for "Giving Thanks," in the understanding gained of

"The Life of all life,
The Light of all light,
The Love of all love,
The Good of all good—God."
—By Alice Wingate Frary.

THEY ARE JUST PLAIN THIEVES AND COWARDS

If anybody should ask what we think is the most crying social need of the times in America we would give him this answer:

Take the romance out of stealing. Most of us forget one thing. Every real male youngster growing into man's inches carries in his bones more or less of the spirit of recklessness, or of adventure and daring. It is the heritage of masculinity, and when directed aright by education or by natural good brains in the boys himself, it is a fine thing. But when misdirected the lad goes bad in one way or another.

America does not handle thieving, as it should be handled. We make too much of a romance out of it—anyway, something that looks like romance to the immature or degenerate brain of the thief. The trial in a crowded court room, the stories in the papers of desperate deeds, the printing of his picture, are glorious to the young fool who has been apprehended.

We would prohibit by law the printing of a thief's name. Give him a number as soon as he is arrested.

We would make it impossible for his picture to appear outside of the "rogues' gallery."

We would have the trial occur in a barred court room.

And we would quit the use of "romantic" words, such as bandit, gunman and the like.

Let's call stealing, stealing, and a thief, a thief.

And as for the gunmen, they are merely common murderers. Also cowardly curs, because, in a holdup, they shoot unarmed, defenseless people.

STEWARDSHIP RALLY

A Stewardship Rally was held at the Christian church Tuesday by representatives of the United Christian Missionary Societies from St. Louis. The sessions continued through the day, and were well attended. R. M. Hopkins, of the Sunday School department; J. E. Moody, missionary to China, who is at home on a furlough and who has had seven years in India, and Miss Lela Taylor, of the College of Missions, had charge of the program, each making several talks during the sessions. In the evening besides the addresses, stereopticon views were shown. The main stress of the talks was on stewardship and tithing. A number of visitors from the county missionary societies were in attendance and everyone was served with lunch at noon.

KENTUCKY TURF'S GREAT PROGRESS

In the Last Three Years the Kentucky Jockey Club Has Distributed in Stakes and Purses $3,479,655.00.

THOROUGHBRED YEARLINGS INCREASE IN VALUE.

[From the Lexington (Ky.) Thoroughbred Horse.]

It will be of particular interest to the breeders of thoroughbreds in this state, and to those persons everywhere who own and race horses to review the situation in Kentucky and to show the progress that has been made in the last seventeen years. As the value of stallions and broodmares depends on the quality of their produce and the ability of that produce to win stakes and purses, a comparison of the present prosperous condition of the turf with other days when prices were low and breeders and turfmen everywhere had cause for complaint will be of value at this time.

Never in the history of the turf have thoroughbreds been so valuable as they are right now. The best barometer is the public market and the auction sales at Saratoga last August showed that, despite the general prostration of business, well bred horses with individuality brought the best average in many years. The highest price of the season at Saratoga was $21,000 for the brother to The Porter. Several others were sold for more than $10,000 each and a number of likely looking colts and fillies brought from $5,000 to $7,000 each. The market generally was steady and unspotted, which is to say it was stable.

The prices were based on the probable earning power of these colts and fillies, and if organizations like the Kentucky Jockey Club did not offer generous stakes and purses, it would not be possible to market their yearlings advantageously. Neither would it have been possible for S. C. Hildreth to have paid $125,000 for the brother to Man o' War, $150,000 for Iachaeus, or for Benjamin Hick to have paid on a $75,000 valuation for the mighty Morych, or for a number of others to have paid the large prices given for horses with capacity to hold their own in contests on the turf.

Fifteen years ago it was no uncommon thing in Kentucky for turfmen to run their horses for $400 purses. This year the Kentucky Jockey Club distributed in stakes and purses an average of $12,000 a day to the turfmen; no purse at Churchill Downs or Latonia was under $1,300, and many of them reaching $1,400 and $1,500 each. In 1905 the Kentucky Derby was worth $4,850. Since the existence of the Kentucky Jockey Club, which was organized three years ago, the Kentucky Derby was worth in 1919 over $20,000; in 1920 over $30,000, and in 1921 the Kentucky Jockey Club added $50,000 to the royal stake. All the other stakes on the roster of the Kentucky Jockey Club at Lexington, Churchill Downs and Latonia have been proportionately increased.

In the three years of its existence the Kentucky Jockey Club has distributed to the turfmen $3,479,655, the greater part of which sum was paid to citizens of Kentucky who own and breed race horses.

Since the Kentucky Legislature in 1906 created the State Racing Commission, we have had cleaner and better racing than ever before, and since the organization of the Kentucky Jockey Club we have had an era of prosperity for breeders and turfmen unequalled in the turf history of this State.

Here are the official figures for the past seventeen years, from 1905 to 1921, inclusive:

1905—	Total number of racing days...135	Total amount of money distributed.....$420,350.00	The highest purse given was $750 and the lowest $300, and the average was a little more than $400 each.
1906—	Total number of racing days...174	Total amount of money distributed.....$517,500.00	Purses averaged about $450 each.
1907—	Total number of racing days...119	Total amount of money distributed.....$362,350.00	Purses averaged about $450 each.
1908—	Total number of racing days...111	Total amount of money distributed.....$299,400.00	Purses averaged about $450 each.
1909—	Total number of racing days...112	Total amount of money distributed.....$249,900.00	Purses averaged about $450 each, although this year purses at Lexington ran as low as $250.
1910—	Total number of racing days...112	Total amount of money distributed.....$316,550.00	Lexington purses ran as low as $300, and the average for the whole circuit was $450 each.
1911—	Total number of racing days...116	Total amount of money distributed.....$388,350.00	Purses averaged about $500 each.
1912—	Total number of racing days...109	Total amount of money distributed.....$347,200.00	Purses averaged about $500 each.
1913—	Total number of racing days...108	Total amount of money distributed.....$444,900.00	Purses averaged over $600 each.
1914—	Total number of racing days...104	Total amount of money distributed.....$439,200.00	Purses averaged over $600 each.
1915—	Total number of racing days...102	Total amount of money distributed.....$481,460.00	Purses averaged over $600 each.
1916—	Total number of racing days...107	Total amount of money distributed.....$589,400.00	Purses averaged about $650 each.
1917—	Total number of racing days...106	Total amount of money distributed.....$638,150.00	Purses averaged about $750 each.
1918—	Total number of racing days...101	Total amount of money distributed.....$652,050.00	Purses averaged about $850 each; Latonia, Douglas Park and Churchill Downs increasing many of the overnight purses $1,000 each.
1919—	Total number of racing days...98	Total amount of money distributed.....$997,100.00	The Kentucky Jockey Club was organized this year and took over the Lexington, Churchill Downs and Latonia race tracks. The average daily amount given in stakes and purses at all tracks was $10,175, and the seven races each day averaged $1,453 each.
1920—	Total number of racing days...104	Total amount of money distributed.....$1,200,800.00	The average daily amount in stakes and purses at all tracks was $11,214, and the seven races each day averaged $1,602 each.
1921—	Total number of racing days...108	Total amount of money distributed.....$1,281,675.00	The average daily amount in stakes and purses at all tracks was $11,807, and the seven races each day averaged $1,695.00 each.

The prohibition enforcement plan is even more lax in the west than it is in the east, according to the Little Rock Gazette. As the late lamented Greeley might say, "Go west, young man, and tank up with the country."

The demand for sincerity is far in excess of the visible supply.

MENEFEE COUNTY NEWS

It is said of a truth that the darkest hours are just before day. So it is with the good county of Menefee today. Due to the recent heavy rains the public roads have become exceedingly laborious to travel, but on Friday one of the road engineers had arrived and was ready to hard surface roads and as soon as this is completed contracts will be let. One engineer begins at Frenchburg and will locate the road to the Morgan county line, while another begins with the Montgomery county line and will locate to Frenchburg. The entire citizenship of Menefee county rejoices over prospects of the speedy construction of a hard surface road through their county and will gladly donate the right of way through their lands. The fact that a good paying oil well has been brought in in a new territory is another source of encouragement. The citizens are hopeful and are doing their full part for the asking.

Circuit Court

Judge H. R. Prewitt presiding and W. C. Hamilton at duty's post, lawlessness meets with official reproof and legal punishment. The juries are conscientious men who when they make mistakes are attributable to errors of the head, and not of the heart. There are more prisoners in jail now than for years past. Nine have been committed to jail during this term. The damage suit of Squire Williams against the C. & O. railroad, asking for $3,000, was hotly contested by Messrs. T. L. Candel, W. C. Hamilton and W. B. White, representing plaintiff, and Hodge & Clay representing the defendant, and resulted in a verdict for defendant for the full amount asked. The grand jury continues in session until after Wednesday. Indictments are numerous and most are for violations of the prohibitions laws.

Resolutions of Respect

Resolutions of the Menefee county bar upon the death of the Honorable Henry D. Combs.
The subject of these resolutions departed this life at Frenchburg, Ky., on October 22, 1921. For more than 25 years he had been an honored member of the Frenchburg bar and had enjoyed a large and lucrative practice. For many terms he held the offices of county court clerk and circuit court clerk of Menefee county and his official record was that of efficiency and honesty. During the Civil war he cast his lot with the armies of the south, and was a true and valiant soldier. At the close of this war he joined the United States army for the purpose of and did assist in putting down Indian uprisings in the far west, and after this service was honorably discharged. Some fifty years ago he married Miss Juda Martin, who now survives him. Besides his widow he leaves to mourn him the following children: Garrett, John, Robert, Taylor, Brooks. Mrs. James Osborne, Mrs. Thornton Hedger and Mrs. Helen Hovermale and many grandchildren. He was a man of great native intellect, a genial companion, a true friend and of rugged honesty. He was a kindly neighbor and devoted to his family, and the people of Menefee county have suffered a severe loss in his death. At the time of his death he was seventy-nine years of age, and led an active life up to within a short time before his death. He was buried on the hill near the place where he had lived so long and which he loved so well. May he rest in peace. Be it resolved that these resolutions be spread upon the order book of the Menefee circuit court and a copy thereof be delivered to the widow of the decedent. T. L. Candel, J. F. Osborn, W. B. White, committee.

Frenchburg School Notes

School and church established in 1909. Main school building erected in 1910, hospital in 1915 and dormitory in 1917. Work is controlled and financed by the Woman's General Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian church of North America. Three men have served as su-

At present the corps of workers is composed of 16 persons, including superintendent, principal, two matrons, a physician, janitor and ten teachers. The present attendance in school is 230. Of this number about 40 are boarding pupils. Five counties have been represented in the school this year. The work of the school covers primary, intermediate, grammar and high school work. A music department was added last year. At present the school building is being remodeled in order to secure additional class rooms and library and a new building is being erected to provide a home for the workers. This building is 84 by 33 feet, constructed of brick and equipped with modern conveniences. The first floor will provide apartments for two families and the second floor provides rooms for ten teachers with store room and kitchenette. Approximate cost of building and equipment is $30,000. Total cost of all buildings and equipment $100,000. All are equipped with modern conveniences—water, steam heat and electric lights. The present school management is one of the conspicuous factors that has led to present attainments. M. J. Giffin, superintendent, and M. P. Gordon, principal. Such schools with the co-operation of the parents have greatly reduced the illiteracy percentage in this section. This school has a value in the

Father of James M. Cox Dies in Ohio

Gilbert Cox, father of former Governor James M. Cox, died Sunday at his home in Camden, Ohio, after a protracted illness. He was 88 years of age.

Mr. Cox was a son of Gilbert Cox, an early settler in Butler county, and was born on the home farm which now is owned by the former governor, who has restored the house to its original condition. Gilbert Cox built the first brick house in Wayne township and was a direct descendant of Thomas Cox, who emigrated to this country from England in 1681.

We wish you would hush: The weary householder had just crawled into the hay as the clock struck midnight. He turned over to pound his ear and just then the telephone down stairs rang. He crawled out and went down the hall to the phone. "Hello" he called. "Hello!" replied the hard female voice of one of the neighbors. "Say, mister, last time you went down in your cellar to get a drink your left your electric light burning, and your wife will make it hot for you if she finds it burning in the morning."

It is asserted by a well known statistician that American college girls need a course in "In how to hold your husband."—Little Rock Gazette. The old-fashioned husband used to hold his wife, now and then, but things seem to have changed. The people who trifle with the most sacred of covenants by attempting to turn a formal marriage ceremony into an unmeaning jest, may incur thereby, sufficient trouble to cause them to appreciate the poetical lines which affirm that a "joke is a very serious thing."
